Supporting Information

We are one of the great British art schools: a specialist creative arts university that draws on 175 years of history, with our focus on the future and the role of creativity in addressing global challenges and opportunities.

We celebrate diversity and believe it to be at the core of any creative endeavour. Whatever your background, identity and prior experience, wherever you are from, we want you to bring your whole self to work each day, in an environment that recognises your unique contribution.

In choosing to work at Norwich University of the Arts you will join a community of creative academics, technicians and professional experts who are committed to delivering exceptional creative arts education, research and knowledge exchange. You will work in a stimulating and critically engaged workplace, where creativity of all our students will develop because of your commitment.

We are renowned for our teaching quality. Norwich University of the Arts has been praised for how we encourage our students through “experimentation, creative risk-taking and team-working.”

We are ranked a top-two UK creative arts university, the highest-ranked specialist creative arts university outside London in the Complete University Guide 2023. We were named University of the Year for Student Retention by the Sunday Times 2020 Good University Guide for the support we offer pre-enrolment to post-graduation. In 2021 we were ranked second in the World Brand Society’s league of Design Education Institutions of the Year. We won one award, came second in another, and were third in the University of the Year category at the 2020 WhatUni Student Choice Awards.

You will work in the heart of Norwich. We are proud of our award-winning campus, which has played a pivotal role in regenerating an exciting quarter of the city. Our 21st century teaching spaces and workshops are housed in renovated buildings with medieval, Victorian and Edwardian heritage. Norwich University of the Arts won the Outstanding Estates Strategy Award at the 2018 Times Higher Leadership and Management Awards.

Ninety-four per cent of our graduates are in work or further study six months after graduation, and Norwich University of the Arts won a Guardian University Award for Employability and Entrepreneurship in 2019 for our innovative ‘gamification’ of careers advice. You will find our graduates in key positions across and beyond the creative sector and industries. There are of course Oscar nominees and BAFTA winners, but also rising stars who are honoured across the creative industries: from D&AD Pencil winners, to emerging fine artists, photographers and fashion designers.

We understand that making career choices requires careful consideration. We hope that as you learn about us you will be inspired by our ambitions for the future.

Senior Lecturer/Lecturer Architecture

Full time, 35 hours a week, 1.0 FTE

Senior Lecturer: £43,414 to £51,805 per annum

Lecturer: £35,333 to £42,155 per annum

Committed to equality and valuing diversity

Norwich University of the Arts is committed to being an inclusive community that offers equality of opportunity and enables our staff and students to flourish and succeed, regardless of their background or personal circumstances.

Our commitment to equality, diversity and inclusion is embedded in everything that we do. We celebrate the diversity of our backgrounds, cultures and actions, promoting art and design as a catalyst of social change. As such, we are champions for the creative arts; empowering all of our students to be valued and productive members of society, with ambitions to change the world.

Our dynamic studio-based Architecture courses address in different ways the role of the contemporary architect in relation to physical and social contexts and environments, as well as to the specificity of the architectural discipline in relation to other forms of spatial and creative practice. This post will contribute to the future direction and curriculum of the Architecture programme – BA (Hons) Architecture and MArch Architecture – and will have a role in developing, leading, and delivering innovative teaching.

The role involves working closely with the Director of Architecture and Interior Design and the Course Leader, Architecture to strengthen the critical approach to spatial and environmental design, and the collaborative links with other programmes and courses and with the profession and industry.

We are seeking to appoint an enthusiastic and versatile individual to a full-time post in Architecture, to contribute to teaching across all courses in the area of architecture, bringing professional and academic experience to the role. We would particularly welcome applications from candidates with teaching and/or research expertise in architectural technology, building construction or environmental science.

You will be an advocate for responsible and inclusive practices with an ability to foster a climate of success through critical debate and co-creation of learning. You will be a champion for promoting diversity and equality in architecture, its practices, and environments. As an inspiring and innovative designer and a supportive and inclusive teacher you will show an innovative and engaging pedagogical approach in both on-campus and digital teaching sessions. You will be able to demonstrate currency in your professional experience and/or research practice. You will be a strong team player able to demonstrate excellent skills in leadership and in team-working, communication, organisation, and management.

The appointment will be made at either Lecturer or Senior Lecturer level dependent on the successful candidate's experience. We welcome applications from those currently working in education as well as industry-based professionals whom we can support in the development of their academic career.

Closing Date: 5pm on 25th November 2022
Interview date: 16th December 2022
